OLD AND RELIABLE.

DR. SANFORD'S LIVER INVIGORATOR is a Standard Family Remedy for diseases of the Liver, Stomach and Bowels.—It is Purely Vegetable.—It never Debilitates—It is Cathartical and Tonic. TRY IT.

SANFORD'S LIVER INVIGORATOR

To Have Good Health, the Liver must be kept in order. Its unhealthy action causes Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Constipation, Dyspepsia, Headache, Bowel Complaints, Seasickness, and other Disorders.

The Liver is the seat of malarial diseases, the Liver Invigorator protects the system from Miasmatic influences. It Purifies the Blood, Regulates the Bowels, Assists Digestion, and Strengthens the System.

The Liver Invigorator has been used in my practice and by the public, for more than 35 years, with unprecedented results.

THE BEST REMEDY FOR
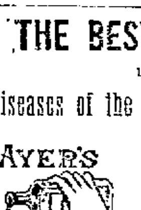
iseases of the Throat and Lungs.



Diseases of the pulmonary organs are so prevalent and fatal, that a safe and reliable remedy for them is invaluable to every community. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL is such a remedy, and no other so eminently merits the confidence of the public. It is a scientific combination of the medicinal principles and curative virtues of the finest drugs, chemically united, to insure the greatest possible efficiency and uniformity of results, which enables ysicians as well as invalids to use it with nfidence. It is the most reliable remedy r diseases of the throat and lungs that science has produced. It strikes at the foundation of all pulmonary diseases, affording ompt and certain relief, and is adapted to tients of any age or either sex. Being ry palatable, the youngest children take without difficulty. In the treatment of lmary Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, onchitis, Influenza, Clergyman's re Throat, Asthma, Croup, and Catarrh, the effects of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL are magical, and multitudes are anually preserved from serious illness by its ely and faithful use. It should be kept hand in every household, for the protection it affords in sudden attacks. In ooping-cough and Consumption re is no other remedy so efficacious, thing, and helpful.

he marvellous cures which AYER'S ERRY PECTORAL has effected all over the rld are a sufficient guaranty that it will tinue to produce the best results. An partial trial will convince the most sceptical of its wonderful curative powers, as well of its superiority over all other preparations for pulmonary complaints.

Eminent physicians in all parts of the ntry, knowing its composition, recomend AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL to invalids, prescribe it in their practice. The test half a century has proved its absolute ainty to cure all pulmonary complaints already beyond the reach of human aid.

I WILL TRUST THEE.

When no rays of light illume
Dreary paths of doubt and gloom,
And the world is dark and cold;
Cankered with the lust for gold,
With a heart of love sincere,
I will trust thee, Saviour dear.

When the noblest friends have turned,
And the words of love that burned,
Cold and cheerless fall from those
Who for faithfulness I chose,
Thou wilt prove a friend sincere—
I will trust thee, Saviour dear.

When before me, dark and wild,
Clouds around the skies are piled,
And the future, black as night,
Closes every ray of light,
In the gloom thy smiles appear—
I will trust thee, Saviour dear.

When the world recedes from view,
And the steps of death pursue;
Help from anxious hearts is vain,
In the hour of mortal pain—
Peace my fainting heart will cheer—
I will trust thee, Saviour dear. CLIO.

Camp Meetings.—Revivals.—Traveling, Licensed and Local Preachers.—Church Officers, &c.

[CONCLUSION.]

CAMP MEETINGS.—The Second Quarterly Conference of Gettysburg Circuit was held August 20, 1827, at Camp Meeting, on land of James Brinkerhoff, about three miles from Gettysburg, on the north side of the York pike. The railroad now runs close to, if not through, the spot. The next Quarterly Conference was held at Tom's Creek on the 24th of November, and the last for the conference year in Gettysburg, Feb. 16, 1828.

The second Camp Meeting was held on the same ground, and commenced on the 15th of August, 1828.

The third Camp Meeting commenced August 17, 1829, on land of James McKnight, (now Stewart's,) near where the Harrisburg road crosses the Great Conowago.

In August, 1830, the fourth Camp Meeting was held on land of John Bercaw, east of Hunterstown.

In August, 1831, the fifth was held on land of James Brinkerhoff, near the York pike, as were those of the years 1832 and 1833.

Then followed, in August, 1834, one on land of T. Stevens, on the Mummasburg pike, near Gettysburg.

In August, 1836, one on land of Jacob Barnitz, near Hanover.

In the years 1837, 1838 and 1840 Camp Meetings were held on land of George Walter, on the Harrisburg road.

In August, 1841, a Camp Meeting was held at Flat Bush, near the York pike.

In 1842 on land of John Blocher, near Gettysburg.

In August, 1843, on land of Isaac Brinkerhoff, in Straban township.

In August, 1844, on land of Peter Trostle, near Round-Top.

No Camp Meeting until 1847. In that year it was held at the place last mentioned.

In 1848 the Camp Meeting was held on the north side of the York pike, 3½ miles from Gettysburg.

In 1849 at Flat Bush.

The last Camp Meeting of the Gettysburg Circuit was held on land of Thomas J. Cooper, at McKnightstown, in 1852, and is remembered more especially because of the heavy rains that prevailed during its continuance.

Since that period chartered associations have been formed; lands purchased and improved by them, and Camp Meetings, thus permanently fixed, held on a much larger scale; generally by Districts and under the control of Presiding Elders.

REVIVALS.—The first revival of any note occurred in 1826, one year before the organization of Gettysburg Circuit, under the pastorate of Revs. Thomas McGee and Jacob Doup, which resulted in the addition of about 75 members to the church, among them Rev. Henry G. Dill. The next revival began on Christmas day in 1835, under Revs. Richard Bond and James Housewert, the converts numbering nearly 100, among them Rev. Wm. Gywnn. In 1840, under Revs. Josiah Forrest and Wesley Howe, another revival added about 100 to the list of converts, among them Rev. Geo. W. Cooper. In 1844 about 40 were converted at a revival under Revs. Thomas McGee and Thomas Reese, among them Rev. George Warren. In 1847, under Revs. Thomas Taneyhill and R. S. McClay, about 70 were converted, among them Rev. J. H. Clippinger. In 1848, under Revs. Horace Holland and John Thrush, nearly 50 were converted. About this time Rev. John Hysinger, now of the Protestant Episcopal church, and Rev. L. M. Gardner, of the Baltimore Conference, were converted. In 1852, under Revs. E. McCullum and Samuel Smith, some 20 were converted, among them Rev. W. F. Paxton. In 1854, under Revs. J. H. C. Dosh and Wm. Earnshaw, nearly 100 were converted, chiefly from the Sunday School. Nearly 50 were converted in 1858, under Revs. John Bowen and M. L. Drum. In 1866 about 75 were converted, under Revs. S. L. M. Consor and G. W. Miller. In 1875, under Revs. M. L. Ganoe and A. Smith Baldwin, 60 were converted and joined the church. These are among the most noted revivals that have occurred. There were also revivals under other ministers, but not so large as those named.

In 1832, Rev. William Nast, D. D., a Professor in Pennsylvania College, gave his name and heart to the Methodist church. For many years he was known as the great apostle of Methodism among the Germans, and established the German Conferences in the West. He also edited the German Methodist paper at Cincinnati.

PIC-NIC.—In the summer of 1855 the Methodist Sunday Schools of Gettysburg Circuit united in a pic-nic in Trostle's woods, near Round-Top. The schools of Gettysburg, Littlestown, Emmitsburg, Tom's Creek, Fairfield and other points were largely represented.

PREACHERS.—The following preachers went into the Traveling Connection from Gettysburg: Revs. H. G. Dill, Wm. Gywnn, Geo. O. Little, Geo. W. Cooper, (since a Presiding Elder in the Baltimore Conference,) George Warren, Elias Welty, (in the Baltimore Conference,) Wm. F. Paxton, (who afterwards became Presiding Elder of the Upper Iowa Conference,) Samuel Kitzmiller, (now in the Wisconsin Conference,) and J. H. Clippinger. These were all natives of Gettysburg.

The following were licensed by the Gettysburg Quarterly Conference to preach and recommended to the Traveling Connection: Revs. J. H. Brown, Wesley Howe, Francis J. Boggs, Geo. A. Sigafoose, Geo. W. Miller, Leonard M. Gardner, Jonathan Golden, Wm. H. Dill, and Charles T. Durboraw, (now of the Southern Kansas Conference.)

The following were licensed as Local Preachers: Revs. Hezekiah Van Orsdel, Edwin A. Atlee, Charles Ziegler, W. W. Paxton, H. J. Smith, Thomas E. Snyder, W. H. Houghtelin—making in all 25. Of these, Geo. O. Little, Hezekiah Van Orsdel, Edwin A. Atlee, Charles Ziegler, W. W. Paxton, Thomas E. Snyder, J. H. Clippinger, and probably others, are now dead.

M. E. CHURCH IN GETTYSBURG.—The following persons are members of the Quarterly Conference at this time:

Trustees, John Culp, J. L. Schick, Jas. Pierce, Peter Sheads, T. A. Warren, Jacob Sheads and S. R. Andrews.

Stewards, John Culp, J. L. Schick, T. A. Warren, Granville H. Swope, A. Blitzenberger, James Pierce, H. H. Schick, O. D. McMillan and J. Jeff. Myers.

Leaders, Rev. J. H. McCord, David McMillan, T. A. Warren and S. R. Andrews.

Exhorters, David McMillan and Benton Dalley.

Sunday School Superintendent, Granville H. Swope.

The church membership now numbers about 160; the Sunday Schools about 150 scholars and 22 teachers, with Granville H. Swope as Superintendent.

In order to make this historical sketch as perfect as possible, I have been compelled to apply to other sources than Mr. Ganoe's address, or even the church records, for information. Inquiries on the subject have been continued for months, and the whole is now submitted with the hope that those most concerned will find the matter of sufficient interest to lead to the preservation of these papers. ARENDTSVILLE AGAIN.

MR. EDITOR:—There are a few errors in the article on "Arendtsville," which, if you will allow me the space, I will now correct, and also add a few important facts.

1. It is stated that one of the houses standing in Arendtsville in 1820 is that on the northeast corner of the square, now owned by Mr. Andrew Bittinger, but it, with the adjoining store-room of Plank & Spangler, was built by Mr. Jacob F. Lower, a few years after he came into possession of the "John's Pursuit" tract. The house which should have been mentioned as built by Mr. Arendt, is the one at present used as a hotel by Mr. Malaun.

2. The blacksmith shop stood where the stables of the hotel now are. It was constructed of brick. A shed of some sort, used for coal and shoeing, stood on the opposite side of the street from it where Dr. O. W. Thomas's house now is.

3. The order of succession of the Lutheran ministers, commencing with Rev. J. Herbst, I have since discovered, from a record book in my possession, to be correct, with the following exceptions: The Christian name of Rev. Ruthrauff was Frederick. Rev. B. Keller's pastorate was from 1836 to 1851; Rev. A. R. Height's from spring to fall, about three months, in 1857; Rev. Geo. Roth's from 1857 to 1858; and Rev. L. J. Bell's from May 23, 1858, to 1860. In the Reformed list the date of Rev. J. Bear's ministry should read 1837—1840.

4. I also find the date of the first recorded communions of the Lutheran and Reformed congregations to be, respectively, the ninth and twenty-third days of May, 1790. There is no possible clue as to who administered this communion in the first-named congregation; but opposite the last name in the column of communicants, in the Reformed list, is the name G. TROLDENIER. By referring to the second volume of Harbaugh's "Fathers of the Reformed Church," I find the name of Geo. Troldenier, with a brief, and necessarily imperfect, account of his life and labors, from which I quote the following: "Mr. Troldenier's name appears on statistical tables, without date, but which circumstantial evidence shows to belong to the years 1790 and 1791, as pastor in Gettysburg. Perhaps he supplied that church in those years from York." Mr. Troldenier came to this country in the year 1786. His pastorate at York is supposed to have commenced previous to the month of June in the year 1787. He was afterwards called to Baltimore, to succeed Rev. Nicholas Pomp, whither he removed in October, 1791. There is one other record, made in the same peculiar handwriting, of a communion held on the twenty-ninth day of May, 1791. Might not Mr. Troldenier, after all, have been pastor in Gettysburg in the years 1790 and 1791; from which point the Reformed congregation at Arendtsville, as a part of his charge, was served by him. Probably, if Dr. Harbaugh had had this fact to corroborate what he already possessed, he would have so decided. The Reformed congregation at Arendtsville was, from that time to the beginning of Mr. Hinsch's pastorate, in 1801, without doubt, served by occasional supplies. The communion held in September, 1796, was held by Rev. Mr. Hinsch, and another in November, 1800,—evidently recorded by the same hand—who at that time resided in Creagerstown, Frederick county, Md., where he had charge of the Reformed congregation, with others in the vicinity.

The book was so irregularly and unsystematically kept that these facts escaped my observation at first. For instance, the oldest records are near the latter end of the book, and in some cases they run backwards instead of forwards; again, the minister's name, if at all in the communion list, is generally, as I have since discovered, the last or nearly the last, instead of the first, whilst in but few cases is it directly stated by whom the service was held. With this discovery I made a thorough re-examination of the book, with the above results. I may recur to it again, in the future, for another purpose.

The name of the builder of the church in Buchanan Valley was Lostetter, and not Hostetter as the typo made it in your last. ARTCH.

MRS. BOYLE, of Pittsburg, shot herself while insane from jealousy. Her daughter was married not long since, and became so attached to her husband that her mother became jealous of him.

A GRAVE-DIGGER in Prussia tried to get rich by roasting the bodies he buried for the fat, which he sold to some fat-renderers in the suburbs of his town. At last accounts he was in jail.

Taking Advantage of Leap Year.

A Detroiter who was out in the country the other day to look after some poultry got stuck in a mud-hole, although having a light buggy and a strong horse. He got out, took a rail off the fence, and was trying to pry the vehicle out, when along came a strapping young woman about 26 years of age. She halted, surveyed the situation, and said:

"You stand by the horse while I heave on the rail, and don't be afraid of getting mud on your hands and boots."

Their united efforts released the vehicle, and the Detroiter returned thanks and asked her to get in and ride. She hesitated, looked up and down the road, and finally said:

"Stranger, I'm blunt spoken. Who are you?"

He gave his name and residence, and she continued:

"I'm over 25, worth $500 in cash, know all about housework, and this is leap year."

"Yes, I know, but for heaven's sake don't ask me to marry you!" he replied as he saw the drift.

"See here," she continued, looking him square in the eye, "I'm a straight girl, wear a No. 7 shoe, and I like the looks of you."

"Yes, but don't—don't talk that way to me!"

"Stranger, it's leap-year, and I'm going to pop! Will you have me or no?"

"I—I'm already married!" he faltered.

"Honest Injun?"

"Yes."

"Well, that settles me and I won't ride. I'll take a cut across the field over to old Spooner's. He's got four sons and a fool nephew, and I'll begin on the old man and pop the crowd clear down to the idiot, for I've slammixed around this world just as long as I'm going to! Good-by, sir—no harm done!"

Philopena in Germany.

The German method of managing the pleasant play of philopena is as follows:

When a couple meet after eating philopena together, no advantage is taken of the other until one of them pronounces the "philopena." This is the warning—now the sport is to begin.

Let us suppose that a gentleman calls upon a lady. She invites him to walk in, and at the same time speaks the talismanic word. If he accepts the offer to walk in, he is lost, unless she removes the ban by telling him to go away.

If she asks him to take off his hat, he must resolutely keep it on; if to be seated, he must stand; or if at the table she would hand him an article which he accepts, she wins the forfeit.

During all this time he endeavors to take her by surprise, for the acceptance of any offer from the other wins the game. Both are constantly exercising their wits to prevent being caught, and the sport goes on all the evening.

Perhaps the gentleman brings a little present, and says: "Knowing that I shall lose my philopena, I have brought it along—here it is." If she is caught off her guard by the smooth speech, she loses, for he immediately claims the forfeit.

If neither wins at the first meeting, the sport is continued to the second, and it may happen that half a dozen parties meet at the same time, all anxious to win of their philopena partners, so that the scene often becomes ludicrously amusing. It is "diamond cut diamond," in very truth.

THEY had a funny incident at Yale one day. Professor Silliman was going to experiment with laughing gas, when he overheard a student say that under its influence no one was responsible for what he said, and he would take advantage of this and tell Silliman what he thought of him. When the class met Silliman quietly said he would like, for purposes of illustration, to administer the gas to some member, and this student volunteered. The leather bag was connected with his mouth. He pretended to be very much excited, and began to abuse and swear at the Professor. Silliman let him go on awhile, and then said he needn't be so irresponsible, the gas hadn't been turned on yet. Only those who have been to college and know how a chemistry class can applaud can adequately imagine the uproar that followed.

AFTER a Griswold barber had finished shaving a stranger yesterday the man asked what the charge was, and when told that it was ten cents, he asked:

"Don't you have any wholesale rates? Wouldn't you give me three shaves for twenty-five cents?"

"Yes, I reckon I could do dat."

"Then go ahead and shave me twice more!" said the stranger as he climbed back into the chair.

The barber lathered, shaved, recombed his hair and cried "brush!" and the man reseated himself and took a third shave without saying a word. His face had a lobster color when he got through, but he handed out a quarter and said:

"I don't know but it would have been better to take seven shaves for half a dollar, but this will do just now."

APROPOS of leap year Chambers' Journal records a lady's proposal made in a novel manner: The young man, paying his usual evening visit, asked his lady-love how she got along with her cooking. "Nicely," replied she. "I'm improving wonderfully, and make splendid cake, now." "Can you?" said the young fellow, ignorantly rushing on to his fate. "What kind do you like best?" "I like one made with flour and sugar, with lots of raisins, currants and citrons, and beautifully frosted on the top," responded she. "Why, that's a wedding cake!" cried he. "I meant wedding," said she; and there was nothing left for him but to say he meant wedding, too.

HE skulked into a saloon, leaned over the bar, and whispered: "Here's my last ten cents. If you were me would you pay it out for whiskey, or buy some candy for the children?" "I'd buy candy," replied the bar-keeper. The man put up the money, made for the door, but halted as a happy idea struck him, and returned and said: "I guess I'll pay for the whiskey, and get trusted for the candy."

"MY darling G. is the most perfect Apollo of a man I have ever seen," remarked Matilda Anne, wending her way home from a leap-year visit to the young gentleman she is now paying her addresses to. "Yes; a perfect Apollo-G.!" spitefully retorted her sister Malvina Jane, a rejected rival, bent on desperate revenge.—Richmond State.

STUMBLING into his room he sat down on the edge of the bed and soliloquized thus: "Feet wet, tight boots, a sore on one hand an' a felon on t'other, and no bootjack in s'house. Sings got to be diff'rent. E'ther I mus' get married, else get a bootjack; wishall I do?"

The Gallagher Divorce Case.

"My name is Gallagher," said the stranger, as he entered Colonel Brown's law office. "I called to see about a suit of divorce."

"Take a seat," said the colonel.

"In the first place," said Mr. Gallagher, "I want to ask, can a divorce be obtained on the ground of general incompatibility?"

"I dunno," said the colonel. "I must ascertain the facts."

"Because, if it can, I want you to begin sixty-eight divorce suits for me to-morrow, upon that ground."

"Sixty-eight?"

"Let me explain. You see, about four years ago I went to Salt Lake City, and I was converted to the Mormon religion. When I joined, Bishop Grubb said I ought to marry, and so I proposed for six daughters, and we were consolidated at once. On the following Thursday the Bishop died. He left eleven widows. His executors pointed out that I might probably assuage their grief and get a firmer grip on the property by taking them out of their lonely condition. So I married them, and also pooled in two sisters of one of them, living in Idaho, and a cousin of another—[illegible] who was single, and had a cast [illegible]ye."

"That made twenty, did it?" observed the colonel.

"Twenty. Well, then, the impression, your honor, naturally got around that I was a marrying man, and so the twelve apostles at their next meeting sealed to me four widows and an old maid that were drifting about the settlement with no one in particular to look after them, and as I took the act good-naturedly, why on the following week, Bishop Knox got the apostles to pass over to me a job lot of his relations, including two aunts, one grandmother, and a second cousin, and Bishop O'Toole threw in a step-sister, a mother-in-law, and three miscellaneous orphans, who were related to nobody. So, you see, I was gradually getting quite a little family about me."

"I see," said the colonel.

"And then, your honor, if any unattached women would come along on the emigrant trains, they were always ordered to be married to me, so that eventually, in addition to my other wives, I had gathered in two Welch women, a Mexican, an old lady from the Sandwich Islands, three Peruvians, the widow of a Japanese acrobat, and a Kicapoo squaw. I thought the heads of the church were a little hard on me, but I had to submit."

"Did you have a happy household?"

"I am just coming to that. I can't say that we were all perfectly congenial, our tastes differed so. The Bishop Grubb delegation, for instance, would want caromels for breakfast in the morning, when the folks from Peru were determined to have clams. Bishop Knox's detachment would insist on cleaning house at the very time when Bishop O'Toole's relations wanted to give a party. If the Sandwich Islander and the squaw wanted to boil a dog or two in the soup-kettle, there was always a fuss with the other women, and the Mrs. Gallagher who came from Japan used to make the rest of the ladies furious by turning somersaults in the parlor when there was company. As for washday! Well, one wanted it on Monday, another would have it on Tuesday, and so on. If there had been thirty-seven days in a week, we should have had washing going on in each of them."

"Precisely."

"And then Emeline, one of my first batch of wives, had studied medicine, and she was always practicing upon the others. She introduced whooping-cough into the family, in order to try a favorite remedy of her's. Imagine sixty-eight women in one house, with the whooping-cough! And then she put ipecac in their tea a few weeks afterwards, to see if it would give them the asthma; and it did. The whole crowd went around gasping for breath, and I think the Mexican [illegible] is probably short winded for life; [illegible]onstrated with Emeline, but the very next day she tried to vaccinate the old lady from the Sandwich Islands by boaring a hole in her elbow with a gimlet."

"Didn't mind you, eh?"

"No. And so one day, about three weeks ago, I brought home a poodle for Julia, one of the younger ones. This looked a little like partiality, and of course the sixty-seven others wanted a poodle apiece at once. Now, I'm not able to pay a dog tax sixty-eight times a year, so I saw there was trouble brewing, and the next day when I came home every woman of them had a dog of her own; been out and bought them. They ranged from bloodhounds to black-and-tan terriers. I remonstrated, and then—well, the women began to cry, and that set the dogs to barking, and then Lucinda went for Julia's black hair, and the other ladies joined in, and the dogs pretty soon began to engage in the controversy, and in a few moments what might have been a happy family circle was a good deal more like a copy of the battle of Waterloo. So I fled and took the first train for the East, and abandoned the Mormon religion permanently, and what I want to know is if I can have those sixty-eight marriage bonds untied. Money is no object, so that I can get loose."

"I think it can be done," said the colonel. "Call in to-morrow."

Two colored youths in Arkansas loved the same girl. She accepted both, and prepared for her wedding day. Both suitors came, and each one thinking he was the bridegroom, warmly and magnanimously shook hands with his rival. When the preacher was ready both men stood up, and the puzzled parson stopped. The rivals began to fight. The bride's father said that if they were going to fight, they had to fight fairly. They adjourned to the yard, stripped to the waist, chose their seconds, and "toed the scratch for business." One was speedily victorious, and while the bride was bathing the beaten man's face with water, she said she would marry the whipped one. And she did. The other fellow tried to prove that he was whipped, but didn't.

THE girls in Broome county, N. Y., don't believe in any Democratic and Republican nonsense. One of them, whose father, a Republican squire, wished her to reject a youth she loved because he was the son of a Democratic judge, went and married him all the same. Her father angrily locked her up, but the groom got a writ of habeas corpus, took the old squire before another squire, and made him let the bride alone.

AN old fellow at Janesville, Ill., wanted to buy some pigeons for a pot-pie, but being an economical man, thought fifteen cents a pair entirely too much. Instead, he offered fifty cents for half a dozen. The surprised merchant of course consented, and the old man went home, admiring his economy and pigeons.

Mistaken Identity.

If the trunk manufacturers do not quit making so many thousands of valises exactly alike, somebody is going to get into some awful trouble about it some time, and some trunk maker will be sued for damages enough to build a large court-house.

The other day an omnibus full of passengers drove up town from the union depot. Side by side sat a commercial traveler named Wm. McCaby and Mrs. Winnie C. Dumbleton, the eminent lady temperance lecturer. When the omnibus reached the Barrett House the commercial traveler seized his valise and started out. The lady made a grab after him and he halted.

"I beg your pardon," she said, "but you have my valise."

"You are certainly mistaken, madam," the traveler said, courteously, but firmly; "this is mine."

"No, sir," the lady replied firmly, "it is mine. I would know it among a thousand. You must not take it."

But the traveler persisted, and the lady insisted, and they came very near quarreling. Presently, one of the passengers pointed to a twin valise in the omnibus, and asked:

"Whose is that?"

"It isn't mine," said the traveler, "it is just like mine, but this is mine."

"And it isn't mine," said the lady, "he has mine, and I'll have it or I'll have the law on him. It's a pity a lady can't travel alone in this country without being robbed of her property in broad daylight."

Finally the traveler said he would open his valise to prove his claim. The lady objected at first, saying she did not want her valise opened in the presence of a crowd of strangers. But as there was no other way of settling the dispute, she at length consented. The traveler sprung the lock, opened the valise, and the curious crowd bent forward to see.

On the very top of everything lay a big flat flask, half full of whiskey, and a deck of cards.

The traveler was the first to recover his self-possession and speech.

"Madam," he said, "you are right. The valise is yours. I owe you a thousand apolo—"

But the lady had fainted, and the traveler relocked his valise with a quiet smile. Early in the afternoon a sign painter down town received a note in a feminine hand, asking him to come to the Barrett House, to mark a red leather valise in black letters a foot and a half long.

THAT excitable Know Nothing crowd which transacts business under the name of the Order of American Union is aroused again. It always comes around on "the eve of a vital Presidential contest," and sometimes more frequently. It comprises a national organization known as a senate, over which that tireless Know Nothing, Mr. Edward Cowler, of Cleveland, presides, and various State organizations known as legislatures. The New York legislature had its meeting on Wednesday, when the late postmaster of Williamsburg, now filling a position in the New York Custom House, presided, and was re-elected. It seems that there are a number of government employes conspicuous in this order, but for all that it isn't able to get up any enthusiasm for Sherman, the administration favorite for President. There was a well-laid plan to give the third-term movement something of a start at the late meeting, but when the Know Nothings got around among each other they found out that Blaine stood about as well as Grant, if not a little better. Under the circumstances the Grant Know Nothings concluded it wouldn't be wise to bring the question of Presidential preference to a test, and the Blaine Know Nothings were magnanimous and allowed the matter to go without a vote. Blaine, it was several years ago stated, was one of the original members of the order, and he had so much confidence in its political usefulness that he declared Hayes—whose private secretary worked the scheme—could not have carried his own State of Ohio had it not been for the help rendered by the Order of American Union.—Times.

CRUEL SWINDLE OF A CLERGYMAN.—A prominent clergyman, residing not three miles from the Boston City Hall, was the subject of a successful swindle a short time since, according to the Traveller, of that city. A young couple called at his house and asked him what his price would be for marrying them. He answered $5. They having no company, he called in two of his servants as witnesses. The services ended, the bridegroom presented a $50 bill, and was given in exchange $45. A few days after, having occasion to use the fifty-dollar bill, the clergyman found it to be a rank counterfeit. The clergyman, on reflection, now thinks that they were two young scamps, one dressed in girl's clothes, as the purported bride never looked him in the face while he was performing the ceremony.

AT an onion party in Rockland recently, a wicked brunette played a high game for kisses. At a party of this description it is customary for the girls to go into a darkened room, when one of the party bites a mouthful from an onion. A young man is then admitted, and it is his proud privilege to kiss the batch of girls until he is enabled by the taste to determine which one of them bit the fragrant fruit. The brunette aforementioned, in this case slipped the onion into her pocket instead of biting it, and the spruce Boston drummer who was summoned to test and find, had kissed five times around the circle, and was beginning again, when a girl, whose jealous lover was outside, discovered the trick and the game was up.

THE Republicans of Maine have become so sensitive about the contradictory opinions of their Supreme Court in regard to the duties of election officers that their Legislature refused to print the decisions of the court rendered in 1877 in the same volume with the recent decisions. Eugene Hale made a speech of an hour against the proposition and it was finally defeated by a strict party vote. Hale was right about the matter. The contradictory opinions of the court would not have looked well printed side by side.—Patriot.

MISS JENNIE FARRELL, a young lady of Lancaster, Wisconsin, has been convicted of the charge of arson. A handsome residence of Joseph Bailie, a neighbor, was burned down, and a few days later his barn was also destroyed. The motive for the act is supposed to have been revenge, as Mr. Bailie had recommended his son not to choose Miss Jennie for his wife, but to give his attentions to her younger sister.

WORK has been begun at the Altoona shops upon an experimental passenger engine, which is intended to do some exceedingly rapid travelling. The engine is to be placed on the United Railroads of New Jersey to compete with the fast trains on the Bound Brook route. The dimensions of the driving-wheels are six feet.

THE longest drought that ever occurred in America was in the summer of 1762. No rain fell from the 1st of May to the 1st of September, making 123 days without rain. Many of the inhabitants sent to England for hay and grain.

THE appearance of crude oil upon the surface of the ground near Freedom, Cambria county, has caused considerable excitement in that immediate section and a well will be sunk.

THE best thing that can be said about the Republican party is that the "machine" works perfectly; so well, in fact, that the voters do not know that they are bought, sold and swapped like so many cattle.—Grand Rapids Democrat.

GRANT, whose strikers are the Camerons and the whiskey ring, is being groomed by the corruptest set of jockies to be found anywhere.—Quincy (Ill.) Democrat.

FRIENDS of Senator Blaine will please notice that it is the Boston Traveller, a Grant organ, that started the report that he has made $3,000,000 by a recent investment in Colorado mining.—North American.

IF the Third Term men succeed in forcing Grant as the nominee of the Republican party, almost any fair Democratic candidate untainted with the faintest stain of secession, ought to be able to beat him. We care nothing what the name of the man may be. For such a candidate we hold ourselves ready to write often and to vote once.—N. Y. Sun.

THE country should understand that the Grant movement is really a scheme to deliver the country to the Democratic party, for no man ever should or will be elected President a third time.—Cincinnati Commercial, Republican.

THOSE who are to-day the loudest champions of the third term were the men who made the term "Grantism" the synonym for everything that was inefficient and corrupt in the public service. They are in favor of a third term for Grant in the hope that it will be a third term for themselves.—Pottsville Chronicle.

MESSRS. Stewart and Rowe, the Chambersburg delegates to the Republican Convention, received the thanks of their constituents publicly expressed. There are quite a number of delegates who are not likely to be remembered in that way either publicly or privately.—North American, Republican.

THE friends of Mr. Blaine are working quietly but desperately to secure his nomination at Chicago, and it must be said that the movement in his behalf is considerably bigger than a man's hand. THE two wings of the Boston Democracy fraternized on Monday night at a banquet in honor of Washington's birthday.

EX-SENATOR B. GRATZ BROWN writes to the Kansas City Times that he regards the coming struggle as one of life or death to free government in this country. He urges that the Democrats may attain perfect harmony by nominating Seymour and Hendricks.

No political organization in this country ever so stultified itself as has the Republican party of our day. In 1875-6 it declared unyielding hostility to a third term. In 1880 it deliberately declares for a third term, and casts its previous utterances to the four winds. Can there be any confidence in a party so brazenly inconsistent and hypocritical?

THE worst snow storm ever known in the Northwest has been raging for two days at Bismarck, D. T. and vicinity.

THE Democratic National Convention will be held at Cincinnati on the 22d of June, the Republican National Convention at Chicago on the third of that month.

—The Democratic National Committee fixed the time and place at a meeting in Washington on Monday. On the first formal ballot Cincinnati had 24 votes, Chicago 8, St. Louis 4, Washington 1, blank 1—38. The selection of Cincinnati was then made unanimous.

At night several speeches were made to the Ohio delegation before its departure, by Ohio Congressmen and others, and much enthusiasm was created. Representative Hill, of Ohio, said that the Democrats would inaugurate their candidate this time at all hazards. Sergeant-at-Arms Thompson, who followed him, said the Democrats would elect their candidate by such a large majority there could possibly be no dispute about it.

THE Democrats have regained control of municipal affairs in York. The Council is a tie, but the Democrats have the casting vote of the Burgess. Alexander Duncan has 200 majority for Burgess and Frederick Zorger over 400 for High Constable (both Democrats.)

Lancaster gives a Democratic Mayor over 800 majority, and elects a majority of Democrats to Council, for the first time in a number of years. The Republican machine is beginning to disgust many heretofore stiff members of that party.

Carlisle restores the Democracy to power in that borough, and Shippensburg and Mechanicsburg elect Democratic Chief Burgesses. The city of Erie also goes Democratic.

All which shows that the Democrats are beginning to wake up to the work before them, and that honest men in the Republican ranks, disgusted with the selfish doings of their leaders, are becoming indifferent to Republican success.

AT the municipal election in Frederick, Md., on Monday, Lewis H. Moberly, Democrat, was re-elected Mayor, by 89 majority over his brother, David H. Moberly, the Republican candidate. Lewis H. Doll, J. H. Brunner and D. O. Thomas, Democrats, and B. F. Winchester and Benjamin Phoebus, Republicans, were elected aldermen. There was much excitement, and after the announcement of the result Mayor Moberly and Col. L. V. Baughman were drawn through the streets by a large and enthusiastic crowd in a wagon to the City Hall, where they were compelled to make speeches.

PHILADELPHIA REPUBLICANS ORGANIZING AGAINST GRANT.—A letter from Philadelphia to the New York Sun says that a halt in the third-term business is to be called in the "Quaker City," which, if disregarded by the Grant managers, will prove a rock upon which the Grant party in Pennsylvania will be stranded. An anti-third-term organization is to be formed in Philadelphia under the name of the National Republican League. Its members comprise many of the wealthiest and most intelligent Republicans of the city, and it is their intention soon to call a mass-meeting at the Academy of Music of Republicans opposed to a third term for Grant. At that meeting steps will be taken to put an anti-third-term ticket in the field. This ticket will embrace candidates for each Senatorial and Legislative district in the city; candidates for District Attorney, Comptroller, Coroner and Clerk of Sessions, an anti-Grant Electoral ticket and anti-Grant candidates for Congress. At the election on Tuesday Independent Republican tickets were run in seven of the twenty-six wards that elect Councilmen. These Independent tickets aggregated about 8,500 votes, and if the same result were reached in each of the thirty-one wards in the city it would give the anti-Grant ticket 35,000 votes next November—or fully half of the entire Republican vote. The anti-Grant spirit is aroused in Philadelphia, and unless Grant is set aside there will be a political funeral, at which the only mourners will be the third term conspirators.

CONKLING will carry New York for Grant, but he is having a rough time of it. The New York Sun says: "Senator Conkling reaches the State Convention over a craggy path. The primaries in his Assembly district cast 900 votes in his favor and 850 against him. In the Convention nine delegates voted for him, and eight for Senator Lowrey, his leading opponent. The latter alleges that one of his pledged delegates was taken away from him by bribery, and he proposes to contest Mr. Conkling's seat. The Convention indulged in a general scrimmage, which resulted in a few black eyes, some torn garments, a frequent whirling of chairs, a volume of hard swearing, and a resolution in favor of Grant."

As the Baltimore Gazette says, "General Jackson once said he had faith in the people, and so have we. But if General Jackson were living to-day he could not help being grieved at the indifference shown by the people to the ultimate effects of Republican teachings. If any harm comes to our free institutions the people themselves will be responsible as well as be forced to bear the burthen of the crime. They can prevent it if they choose. They can make or unmake Presidents, and if an attempt is again made to set their will aside they can grind the criminals to powder between the upper and nether millstones of the people's wrath. It all rests with them."

HAYES nominated eight stalwart Republicans for Census Supervisors for Ohio, the full delegation. This he did in face of the fact that both Senators and eleven of the twenty Congressmen from that State are Democrats. Senator Pendleton is Chairman of the Census Committee, and he determined that his party should receive the full proportion of Supervisors its strength in the State entitles it to, and when the Senate came to confirming them, all of the eight were rejected by a vote of 38 to 10. This was a severe slap in the face, but no more severe than deserved.

THE principle at the bottom of the present Republican agitation is that in so important an occasion as the nomination of a President of the United States, the trickery of machine delegations and the corrupt and fraudulent manipulation of conventions must not be tolerated, because they are gross outrages upon popular rights and liberties. It is deeply and painfully felt that Pennsylvania has been unjustly dealt with.

That's what the Philadelphia North American, the oldest, if not the most influential Republican daily in Philadelphia, says about it.

THE leading article in the North American Review for March is by ex-Judge Jere. S. Black, and is entitled "The Third Term," being a reply to ex-Senator Howe's paper on that subject in the Review for February. Mr. Black holds that to elect General Grant to a third term of office in the presidential chair would be a violation of a custom that is stronger than any laws or constitutions whatever; that it would in effect be the end of our republican institutions, and the installment of "empire."

THE New York Tribune has dug out one man in this State who wants Smiler Colfax for President. Colfax ought to send that solitary Pennsylvanian a block of Credit Mobilier stock.—Phila. Chronicle.

THE anti-third-term German Republicans of New York City held a large meeting on Monday night, and speakers and resolutions very earnestly denounced a third term for Grant.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Correspondence of the Gettysburg Compiler.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21, 1880.

Congress stalks along at a moderate pace with a pretty strong indication that it won't tire out as soon as has been predicted. During the last few days matters of a little more interesting and sensational character have been coming to the front, and, all things considered, life at the Capital is growing less monotonous, from a political standpoint at least. An event very rare in any Congress—the expulsion of a member—threatens to shortly occur. Mr. Acklen, of Louisiana, stands accused of a serious breach of honor among members, in presenting to the House what he represented to be the report of a committee, and asking to have it received and printed. These things are always accepted on the word of a member, and when it was discovered that the paper presented was not a committee report and that Mr. Acklen had no authority whatever to so represent it, there was great indignation. An investigation was ordered and the result reported places Mr. Acklen in a very bad situation.

The contested election cases that have occupied the most attention so far are Curtin vs. Yocum in Pennsylvania and Donnelly vs. Washburn in Minnesota. Both are practically decided. The Radical press is making a terrible howl over the finding of the sub-committee in the latter case, because they say Washburn's majority was 3,000. But when the report of the full committee is made, I think it will convince all fair-minded men that it is not partisan, and that the sitting member secured all his apparent majority by means which give him no legal or just claim to the seat. The record contains evidence of the grossest frauds perpetrated in Washburn's interest. An example of the kind of testimony before the committee is this: Washburn came into Minneapolis from the country with a majority against him. He is confessedly unpopular in the city, and yet he overcame this adverse majority and ran up a majority for himself of 3,500 in seven precincts of the city where the regular Republican majority never exceeds 350. This was done by resort to the statute that each voter's ballot and name on the registry should be numbered, so that it might be known how each man voted. The law facilitates bribery and had been declared unconstitutional by the Court, and Judges of Elections had decided the evening before the election day that they would abide by that decision. Governor Washburn, the contestant's brother, and the latter's book-keeper, Hall, are said to be convicted of bribery, and it will be held that W. D. Washburn must have been privy to it. This is but one of a number of pieces of testimony on which the sub-committee base their finding. PROSO.

For the Gettysburg Compiler.

THE OUTLOOK.

Only a few months ago the November gales bore upon their wings the exulting shouts and contemptuous boastings of the Republican machine politicians all over the land. Once more they hoped and believed that the party which, through good report and evil report, has fought the people's battles, was at last really dead. But once more they are fully awakening to the fact that the Democratic party, in the words of one of its worthiest champions, NEVER DIES. It may be laid out for dead and prepared for burial by those in whom the wish for its death is father to the thought, but it is always found ready for battle, and rises ever from what, to organizations possessing less spirit and vitality, would seem fatal and irretrievable ruin and defeat, light and strong as a giant refreshed with wine.

Verily the spectacle presented by the two parties is striking and instructive. On the one hand we see the Republican organization torn and distracted by internal strife and jealousy. In Pennsylvania the great mass of its voters favor one candidate, whilst the tyrant who controls its political machinery fixes its convention to declare for another. In New York and Illinois the same spectacle is preparing. Grant, seated on the Juggernaut, calm and relentless as Fate, drives onward towards his nomination, recking as little of popular opposition as he did of the exposures which made his administration a stench in the nostrils of all men.

On the other hand, the great Democratic party, calm in its consciousness of strength and right, is organizing for the great contest which will soon be upon us, when the battle between Constitutional Liberty and Cæsarism will be fought at the polls; is organizing not for this man or that, but for the welfare of the whole party of our whole country. This, which is now the labor and the thought of the chiefs, should be the congenial task of every Democrat. No one is placed so high as to be above, none so low as to be beneath it. That the Democracy can win in the impending struggle is certain. All that is wanting is earnest, harmonious, unceasing effort. If the party will labor earnestly and sincerely, presenting to the enemy a united, unbroken and aggressive front, no event which is yet in the womb of the future is more certain than that we will win a fruitful and lasting victory in November next, and that the dangerous and wicked conspiracy against free institutions which is hatching, will be overwhelmed forever beneath the mighty wave of popular condemnation and contempt.

THE THIRD TERM DID IT.—At the recent municipal election in Pittsburg, the Democrats succeeded in electing most of the aldermen. The Pittsburg Dispatch, Republican, accounts for this result as coming not only from high taxes, bad government and cowardly representatives, but says that "unless the ghosts of third-termism and one-man dictation are speedily laid by the exorcising influence of the party leaders, much of the party's power will be frittered away."

MORAL MUSIC.—The editor of the Clinton Democrat, in alluding to some stubborn facts, remarks: "Mr. Cameron's Convention at Harrisburg congratulates the Radicals of Maine over 'the peaceful and successful resistance to the effort to defraud that State of the right to choose its own representatives,' and the de facto President sends in the name of J. Madison Wells' son in part payment for the father's part in stealing the Electoral vote of Louisiana."

A SIGNIFICANT fact occurred at the recent election in Philadelphia. The only Grant man in the Philadelphia delegation to the late Harrisburg convention, which instructed its delegates to vote for Grant, was defeated for councilman by 450 majority in a ward which usually gives 1000 Republican majority. Straws show.

A TELEGRAM from Jefferson, Texas, says a reliable informant, from Linden, Cass county, in that State, gives the following: "Mrs. Clarke, a respectable married lady, living in the Garry neighborhood, was brutally murdered on Sunday. Three men were arrested, and one of them, who confessed the crime, was horribly mutilated by a mob. His clothing was saturated with coal oil and then set on fire. He was afterward hanged. Intense excitement prevails."

DIPHTHERIA is raging in Central Russia. It has carried off since last November over forty thousand persons in the two provinces of Charkoff and Poltava alone, and in the neighborhood of Walki whole villages have almost died out.

ALL SORTS.

Gen. Sykes is dead.

William P. Small, brother of the late John A. Small, Resident Clerk of the House, has been appointed to succeed him.

Mrs. Hayes wears garnet, velvet and satin now, and no one knows where that celebrated old black dress has gone.

According to the Sedalia Democrat, a mound has been found near Knob Noster, Missouri, which contains the skeletons of pigmies, with skulls no larger than a man's fist, and the jaws provided with full sets of teeth, showing them to be the remains of grown persons.

Atlantic City is becoming a popular winter resort, and there are now guests there from Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and the western cities.

It is said Senator Conkling refuses to be reconciled to an only daughter who married a poor but excellent young man a short time ago.

The Burlington Hawkeye says that a man never feels more forcibly how true it is that "kind words never die" than when his love letters are read out, to the absorbing interest of all present, in a breach of promise suit.

The lead pencil of the future will substitute paper for wood. The paper is steeped in an adhesive liquid and rolled around the core of lead to the required thickness, and is colored after drying, when it resembles an ordinary cedar pencil.

The Boston Advertiser says that a Signal Service clerk has invented an instrument which shows by dials the kind of weather the wind and atmosphere at the time indicate as most probable, and it is said one of the instruments is to be placed in the post-office of every city of the United States.

And now the voice of the girl—over twenty years old—will soon be heard in the land—"fibbing" to the census taker about her age.

The Hawkeye having said that "there is an old saying that leap year is fruit year," the Philadelphia News chimes in with the remark "that it ought to be a good year for pairs."

Here at last is a slight variation from the usual pistol accident. Mrs. Adams of Peer Island, Me., snapped the weapon at her little daughter, supposing it was empty, and killed the child.

An Ohio girl sued a man for breach of promise, and proved him such a mean scoundrel that the jury decided she ought to pay him something for not marrying her.

Rowland E. Trowbridge, of Michigan, has been appointed Commissioner of Indian Affairs.

Holland has been suffering from floods, entailing immense loss.

"Give me three yards of mustard plaster," said a physician to a Philadelphia apothecary, "and be quick, if you please, for the patient is suffering dreadfully." The apothecary was dazed with surprise, until the physician added, "One of the giraffes of the Zoo has an acute attack of bronchitis. His throat's sore all the way down. That's what the plaster's for."

Another railroad bridge has broken beneath the weight of a passing train, this time near Bellaire, Ohio, and a number of persons are fatally injured.

Sportsmen throughout the State are endeavoring to introduce Sicily quail.

The active capital in the iron trade is three times larger now than ever before in this State.

Five hundred and four locomotives and 18,000 cars are included in the equipment of the Erie road.

General Grant can sympathize with Longfellow. An alleged nephew of the General's, Edward Dent, has been arrested in Baltimore for stealing a horse and wagon.

They say Senator Oliver P. Morton handed the late General Jeff. C. Davis the pistol with which he killed General Nelson at Louisville. General James B. Steedman is given as authority.

Mr. Parrott, the president of a mining company at San Francisco, has been arrested for violating the act recently passed by the California Legislature prohibiting corporations from employing Chinese cheap laborers. The suit is brought to test the constitutionality of that statute.

A dispatch from Reno, Nevada, says: "Four men were buried by a snowslide near Franklintown on Saturday morning. William Foul was rescued badly injured. The three others, Samuel Kenny, Alexander McLane and John Burney were not found."

Mrs. Harriet Hink was found brutally murdered in her house in Paterson, N. J., on Saturday. She was a widow, and the motive of the assassin was robbery, as her person was robbed of a valuable gold watch, some jewelry and a considerable sum of money she had just received.

Some villains cut the throat of a valuable stallion on Thursday night in the stable of Mr. Frank Rhoads, Amityville, Montgomery county.

Parties interested in coal mines in northern Illinois are securing colored miners to take the places of strikers.

Famine and diphtheria are decimating the populations of the towns in the interior of Russia. These are accompanied by a scarcity of hay and fodder for the cattle.

IF Cameron is of sound mind he must see that he has carried the tyranny of his leadership too far. In 1876 he defied the will of his party and voted the State for a man who had no strength whatever among Pennsylvania Republicans, who wanted Blaine then as they do now. Since 1876 the Cameron clique has had unbridled sway; it has been made drunk by its successes, and the defiant slave-driving course at Harrisburg is the result. But that is not all. That result is in turn a cause which has aroused the Republican party to a revolt such as the Camerons have never before encountered.

The defection is open and undisguised. Pennsylvania Republicans have remembered that freedom is their birthright and they are aroused almost to the point of asserting the rights of freemen. The nomination of Grant would be the last straw. After that there would be such a shaking up as never was seen in Pennsylvania, and the defeat of Grant would follow. If Don Cameron is sagely reaching this conclusion he is wise in his generation. If he doesn't see it now he will see it later.—Phila. Chronicle.

THE Philadelphia Press says: "But for the influence of Senator Cameron, aided by Gov. Hoyt and their personal friends and coadjutors, the Grant movement would have met an absolutely 'ignominious defeat.'" But admitting this to be true what are we to think of the Republican party in the second state of the Union when it allows itself to be made the willing servant of a single man, not distinguished for ability or patriotic public service? What is the Republican party's claim of "representing the intelligence, thrift, patriotism and conscience of the nation" worth when, in one of the leading states of the Union, it tamely submits to be flagrantly misrepresented in so supreme a matter as its choice for presidential nominee?—Carlisle Sentinel.

SAD CONDITION OF COLORED REFUGEES.—A number of prominent New Yorkers have issued an urgent appeal for funds to alleviate the sufferings of the colored refugees in Kansas. The appeal states that there are 15,000 or 20,000 of them in the State and they continue to arrive every day, "ragged and barefoot, and without money." It is added that many are sick from exposure to the severe climate, and a number have frozen to death. They are unable to get employment, as they are simply farm laborers, and farming operations are now at a stand-still. This is a gloomy representation, but doubtless a true one, and illustrates the short-sightedness, to say the least, of those who were instrumental in causing these ignorant people to sacrifice their small savings and desert their Southern homes for promised high wages and cheap houses in the inhospitable climate of Kansas. Score another against unscrupulous Republican leadership.

CHEAP GRATIFICATION.—The Washington Post says: "Don. Cameron has the satisfaction of being officially assured that Gen. Grant is 'gratified' with his work at Harrisburg. As that work was of the same general character that made Grant's administration infamous, it ought to be highly gratifying."

RECORD YOUR DEEDS.—The attention of persons holding unrecorded Deeds is directed to the provisions of the Act of Assembly which require that—

"All deeds and conveyances for real estate in this commonwealth, shall be recorded in the office for Recording Deeds in the county where the lands lie, within six months after the execution of such deeds and conveyances; and every such deed and conveyance not recorded as aforesaid, shall be adjudged FRAUDULENT AND VOID against any subsequent purchaser or for a valuable consideration, unless such deeds be recorded before the recording of the deed or conveyance under which such subsequent purchaser or mortgagee shall claim."

This is a very important notice, and those holding unrecorded deeds will see the importance of having them recorded without further delay. The fees for recording have been reduced 20 percent. tf

WORMS.—WORMS.—WORMS.—E. F. Kunkel's Worm Syrup never fails to destroy Pin, Seat and Stomach Worms. [Dr. Kunkel, the only successful physician who removes Tape Worm in two hours, alive with head, and no fee until removed.] Common sense teaches if Tape Worms be removed all other worms can be readily destroyed. Advice at office and store, free. The Doctor can tell whether or not the patient has worms. Thousands are dying daily with worms and do not know it. Fits, spasms, cramps, choking and suffocation, sallow complexion, circles around the eyes, swelling and pain in the stomach, restless at night, grinding of the teeth, picking at the nose, cough, fever, itching at the seat, headache, foul breath, the patient grows pale and thin, tickling and irritation in the anus—these symptoms, and more, come from worms. E. F. KUNKEL'S WORM SYRUP never fails to remove them. Price, $1.00 per bottle, or six bottles for $5.00. For Tape Worm write and consult the Doctor. For all others, buy of your druggist the Worm Syrup, and if he has it not, send to DR. E. F. KUNKEL, 259 N. Ninth St., Philadelphia, Pa. Advice by mail, free; send three-cent stamp.

Worms are capable of producing great disturbances in the system. The whole train of spasmodic and convulsive diseases may proceed from the irritation of worms in the alimentary canal. Cholera, epilepsy, tetanus, paralysis, mania, and convulsions, as well as a variety of other nervous and convulsive affections, are not unfrequently the effects of this cause. Besides these diseases, worms have also been known to produce pleurisy, pains in the side, dysentery, remitting fever, dropsy of the brain, chronic and spasmodic cough, &c.

NERVOUS DEBILITY! NERVOUS DEBILITY!—Debility, a depressed, irritable state of mind, a weak, nervous, exhausted feeling, no energy or animation, confused head, weak memory, the consequence of excesses, mental overwork. This nervous debility finds a sovereign cure in E. F. KUNKEL'S BITTER WINE OF IRON. It tones the system, dispels the mental gloom and despondency, and rejuvenates the entire system. Get the genuine. Take only E. F. KUNKEL'S. It has a yellow wrapper around it, his photograph on the outside. Price, $1.00. Ask your druggist for it, and if he has it not, get of the Proprietor, 259 N. Ninth St., Philadelphia, Pa. Advice free; enclose three-cent stamp.

A new Hack to and fro from the Depot on the arrival of all trains free of charge. Passengers conveyed to any part of the town. HACKS, BUGGIES and SADDLE HORSES TO HIRE AT ALL TIMES. April 13, 1878. tf

Battlefield Hotel,

GETTYSBURG, PA.

Peter Thorn, Proprietor.

THIS pleasantly located Hotel, at the junction of Baltimore street and the Emmitsburg road, and near the National Cemetery, offers excellent accommodations at moderate rates. The house is roomy and airy, and in good order throughout. THE TABLE has the best of the market, and the bar choice liquors. In addition, Peter is always on hand to give attention to his guests, deeming it a pleasure to minister to their comfort and deserve their good will and favor. Give him a call and you will be pleased with the "Battlefield" and its attentive proprietor. April 12, 1878. tf

Eagle Hotel,

GETTYSBURG, PA.

HAVING leased the above well-known House, hope, with my long experience as a public caterer, to make it a pleasant resort for the citizen and stranger. SPECIAL RATES for patrons living in the county, jurors and witnesses attending court.
H. YINGLING,
Nov. 7, 1878. tf PROPRIETOR.

Central Hotel,

BALTIMORE ST., NEAR THE COURT-HOUSE,
GETTYSBURG, PA.

Jacob Klunk, Proprietor.

THE undersigned, having leased this eligibly located Hotel, on Baltimore street, only a few doors from the Court-house, in the pleasant town of Gettysburg, asks his old friends and the public to give him a call. The rooms are large and airy, and furnished in the best and fullest style—beds not to be surpassed anywhere. His table shall always have the best of the season, and the bar none but choice liquors. Ample stabling attached, with an attentive hostler.

Charges moderate. The undersigned flatters himself that with his long experience in the hotel business and desire to please, all guests at the Central will be more than satisfied with the treatment, fare and bills. JACOB KLUNK.

500,000 Tons of HAY,

IN ADAMS COUNTY,

To Be Elevated, the Coming Haying Season, with

"Carroll's Elevator,"

THE only successful machine for that purpose, &c., ever invented. No cutting of ropes, no slipping—always reliable and ready for use when once put up. No farmer ought to be without one, for it does away with the hardest work on the farm.

I introduced a number of these machines into this county last season. Go and see those who have used them. The machine must stand on its merits, and let those speak for it who have used it.

I am now soliciting orders and putting up machines, and I have employed, as my authorized agent in this county, P. D. W. HANKEY, of Gettysburg, who will call on farmers and solicit orders. Every machine guaranteed.

I will give the following references, where the Elevator is in use:

—A lively fox chase at New Oxford on Monday week. The fox, was captured after a run of six or seven miles.

—The G. A. R. Fair, in the old Methodist church, opened last evening, to continue a week—afternoons and evenings.

—The Philadelphia Times says that Mr. McPherson will leave the Press.

—Lewis Ramer will go into the watch and jewelry business at Emmitsburg.

"THAT BOY."—Dr. Vincent's lecture, Tuesday evening, attracted a full house, as it deserved to. We never before enjoyed so happy a blending of good, common sense and rippling, sparkling humor. From beginning to close it brimmed over with telling points, the pathetic now bringing moisture to the eye and the mirthful then convulsing the hearer. Whilst insisting upon authority on the part of parents, he plead for companionship with and trust in "that boy." "Any creed that will not permit a boy of twelve to 'play horse' is spurious," was a broad sentiment, but it found an echo in many a heart. Our regret is that want of time and space prevent a sketch of Dr. Vincent's happy effort. Every man, woman and boy present was the better for hearing it.

After the lecture, about twenty ladies, composing the Chautauqua Circle in this place, "surprised" Dr. Vincent at the Methodist parsonage with an entertainment furnished at their own expense, and the evening was pleasantly and profitably spent.

A HEN belonging to Mr. A. W. Fleming, in this place, is disposed to be accommodating. It has commenced not only laying eggs for Easter, but furnishes them ready dyed, the color being what is known as "coffee."

THE Democratic Committee of Cumberland county, on Saturday, selected Alexander Wentz as senatorial and Henry Manning and Jacob Hemminger as representative delegates to the Democratic State Convention. No instructions.

SALES.—The real estate of W. H. Detterer was sold on Thursday—the three-story house on Carlisle street to Hiram Warren at $1,885, the vacant lot adjoining to Charles M. McCurdy at $125, the brick-yard property to the Gettysburg Building Association at $1,500, and two lots near Round-Top to C. P. Krise at $5 and $5.50.

THE 22d, Washington's Birthday, occurring on Sunday, the holiday part came in on Monday. About daylight the little cannon was fired, and soon after flags swung in the breeze. In the forenoon a party of "fantasticals" paraded the streets, and in the afternoon the Southern-Tier Cornet Band enlivened the town with excellent and appropriate music. The Band has made wonderful progress.

A SUCCESSFUL revival of religion is in progress in the United Brethren church at Middletown, this county. The pastor, Rev. J. H. Snoke, reports over twenty conversions, and others are coming forward. Notwithstanding the muddy roads, the church is often crowded, people from quite a distance attending to hear the gospel preached.

THE biennial exercises of the Phrenakosmian Society, in the College Church, Monday evening, consisted of five orations—"The Vaudois," by W. P. Swartz, Harrisburg; "Between Man and Man," C. W. Heisler, Millinburg; "Major General Green," E. L. London, Altoona; "Three of the Stages," A. H. F. Fisher, Berlin; "Thinking and Looking," T. C. Linn, Salisbury, N. C.; "Is Life Worth Living?" M. F. Troxell, Cumberland, Md. Rev. Dr. H. E. Jacobs made the opening prayer and President Valentine pronounced the benediction. Music by Gipe's Orchestra, York, Pa.

NOTICE.—At a meeting of the congregations of St. James Lutheran and the Reformed Churches of Gettysburg, a committee was appointed to make sale of the west half of what is known as the "New Graveyard," any persons having friends or relatives buried there are requested to remove them on or before March 10, 1880. 2t

FOR the information of all concerned, we would state that applications for hotel, restaurant or liquor store license desired at the April term of Quarter Sessions, must be filed in the Clerk's office on or before the 15th day of March.

THE Annual Sunday School Convention of Adams County will be held in the Lutheran Church at New Oxford on the 18th and 19th of March. Measures will be taken to make the proceedings attractive and profitable, especially in view of the year closing the centennial period since Robert Rakes first commenced the work. Homes for all the delegates will be provided with reduced rates over the Hanover & Gettysburg and East Berlin Railroads. By order of COMMITTEE.
Feb. 26. 2t

"UNCLE TOM'S CABIN" will be presented in Col. McClellan's Opera House This (Thursday) Evening. Reserved seats at Buehlers' drug store. Col. Knaktie's "Uncle Tom," and La Petite Fanied's "Eva" were received with great favor during 24 consecutive entertainments in the Maryland Institute, Baltimore, and it is confidently expected they will draw a full house in Gettysburg. 1t

"THE DANITES" will be presented in McClellan's Opera House, Gettysburg, Wednesday evening, March 3d, by a troupe of acknowledged ability. Tickets 50 and 35 cents—reserved seats at Buehlers' drug store. A good idea of the play is given by the following criticism, taken from the Philadelphia Times:

The drama is located in a mining camp in the Sierras, where Nancy Williams, the sole survivor of a family that has been pursued by the "Danites," the avenging angels of Mormonism, has taken refuge, disguised as the boy Billy Piper. It is her secret known only to "The Widow," a sweet little school-marm who is married to Sandy, the hero of the Forks, and her own former lover, that forms the thread of the plot, and the Danites appear often enough to make their presence felt, without intruding upon the little love idyl, which furnishes the structure of the play. Besides the three leading characters there are a half dozen well drawn types of mining life, including the Judge, the Parson and a Chinaman.

THE SUITS W. T. King is furnishing for Gents and Boys for Spring of 1880, are not to be surpassed, either as to quality or style, (at like prices) anywhere in the county. Before purchasing elsewhere, call at his place on York street, and be convinced. DEATH OF HON. DANIEL SHEFFER.—The death of Hon. Daniel Sheffer, at York Springs, this county, on the 16th instant, was briefly announced in our last. His age reached nearly five score—96 years 7 months and 21 days; and he was for some time regarded as the oldest living Congressman. He was probably the last of the original subscribers to the COMPILER, established in 1818.

Intelligent, upright and reliable, Dr. Sheffer always commanded respect.—Though an ardent and active Democrat, men of all parties consulted him, and rarely failed to be benefited by his sound judgment and advice. With his demise disappears one of the county's oldest and most prominent time-marks.

The Comet says: The deceased was a prominent citizen of this county since 1806, having removed here from Winsor township, York county, where he was born on the 24th day of May, 1783. For many years he was an active practicing physician, and held many responsible positions of public trust. For almost twenty-five years of his eventful life he was one of the Associate Judges of our county by appointment. In 1836 he was elected a member of Congress by the Democratic party from this District, then composed of the counties of Adams and Franklin, and served as a member of the 25th Congress in an acceptable manner. He was an early friend of Andrew Jackson for President and was on the State ticket as an elector in 1824, and a Delegate to the Baltimore Convention in 1848. In 1828 he was prominently mentioned as a candidate for Governor, but declined to allow the use of his name for that position. Immediately before his death he was reported as being the oldest ex-Congressman living.

He was ever trusted and honored in public life, and held in high esteem and beloved in private life by neighbors and friends.

He was a member of the Reformed Church at York, Pa., and a regular attendant at the different churches here as long as able to attend, and always a friend to the poor and afflicted, dispensing his charities without ostentation or display. His remains were interred in the Lutheran graveyard.

"BLOWING UP"—A piece of dangerous sport was practiced at the College on Friday morning. Whilst Prof. Himes was hearing a class, an explosion of powder in the coal box threw the contents over the recitation room, and painfully burned the faces of the Professor and a student named Wm. Staler. From an unoccupied apartment in the lower story a tin tube through a hole made in the floor carried a fuse up into the coal box, a quantity of powder, and on top of that a pound or two of flour, covering its entrance. The purpose evidently was to "dust" the Professor and the class, but the heavy charge might have led to even worse consequences. The faculty are engaged in an earnest effort to discover the guilty parties, and if successful to make a proper example of them.

INQUEST.—Moses N. Haines was found dead in his bed at the County Almshouse on Tuesday morning. Justice H. G. Wolf summoned a jury to inquire into the cause of death, and, after examining a number of persons, they reported that it resulted from apoplexy. Messrs. Wm. D. Holtzworth, (foreman,) M. Moriarty, Daniel J. Little, Nathaniel Miller, J. Jeff. Myers and Joseph Spangler composed the jury. Deceased was 50 years and 8 days old.

BIRTHDAYS.—A dispatch from Lancaster, Pa., dated February 18, says: James Hoover, of this city, was 60 years old yesterday. His son, Councilman William Hoover, was 30 the same day. Yesterday was also the 32d birthday of his son Titus. His daughter Mary was twenty-seven years of age yesterday. Jacob, another son, yesterday completed his 25th year. To round off this singular chapter in the history of the Hoover family, Councilman Hoover's wife yesterday presented him with a son.

OYSTERS.—Edward Hopkins has opened an Oyster Saloon in McConaughy's Hall, (lately kept by Wm. E. Biddle,) where he will furnish the best oysters to be had in the Baltimore market, done up in every style. Oysters in the shell always on hand. He asks a share of public patronage. Feb. 16. 3t

MR. JOHN MUELLER, Poyner, Iowa, sends us the following communication:

I have been a sufferer with Rheumatism for the last six years; I tried lots of medicines without any success. Visiting one day the store of Messrs. Wangler Bros., in Waterloo, Iowa, these gentlemen induced me to try the St. Jacobs Oil, telling me that it had a record as a very effective remedy. I bought a bottle, used it regularly according to directions, and was relieved of the ailment from which I had suffered for six long years. 1t

"OLD RELIABLE."—There are many reputed remedies for that very prevalent disease, Chronic Nasal Catarrh, but none which have given general satisfaction and become acknowledged standard preparations, except Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It continues to enjoy an unprecedented popularity. This reputation has been earned through the permanent cures which it has wrought, having proved itself a specific in the worst forms of the disease. In fact so reliable is it that its former proprietor offered through all the newspapers of the land a reward of $500 for a case of Catarrh that it would not cure. Sold by druggists. 1t

DR. COXE's wild cherry and seneka is a charming remedy for all coughs, colds, and all affections of the throat and lungs; so pleasant and so certain to cure. You will be delighted with it. 1t

THE Farmers' Club of Mountpleasant met on Friday evening last, with a good attendance of members.

The subject of Grass-Seeding had been referred to Philip D. Daugherty, whose report was as follows:

My experience in the cultivation of grass is very limited. Timothy seed should be sown in the fall, with the drill or as soon after as possible before the ground settles. I would recommend 1½ pints per acre. I would recommend the sowing of clover seed at different times, the first time about the middle of February and the second about the middle of April; about 2 quarts at a time. But if sown at one time, it should be sown the middle of March, and not less than 4 quarts per acre, and if on land that has no timothy, 1 pint of timothy seed should be mixed with it.

I would prefer red top clover for hay and feed; it does not grow so rank; but prefer the sapling clover for early pasture, for seed and plowing under as manure.

After this report was read other members spoke on the subject.

J. Coshun recommended sowing clover seed about the middle of March. Samuel Allison related his experience in sowing clover seed and following with the harrow; could see no difference in favor of harrowing. Jacob Herbst, Henry J. Sneeringer and J. H. McMaster recommended later sowing.

Others spoke on this subject, expressing different views. H. C. Hagarman asked the question "Where does ripple come from?" Was not answered.

In compliance with article 2d of the by-laws, J. H. Beamer, A. W. Little, J. A. Stallsmith and J. A. C. Rindlaub read reports of the condition of their farms, crops raised, etc, the past year. B. F. Kitlinger, A. D. Spangler, C. G. Miller and A. H. Deatrick were designated to report at the next meeting.

The subject "Is the raising of web-footed poultry and turkies more expensive than remunerative?" was referred to J. C. Herbst, and Tobacco Culture for general discussion. Adjourned to meet Friday evening, Feb. 27, 1880. All are invited to attend. W. C. STONER, Cor. Sec'y.

Mr. Beltzhoover has introduced a bill in Congress appointing Captain W. E. Miller, of Carlisle, a manager of the National Home for Disabled Volunteers.

PROSECUTED FOR LIBEL.—On Saturday last James Zell, the husband of Mrs. Zell, now under sentence of death, made oath before Justice Zinn, charging E. Z. Wallower, editor of the Harrisburg Independent, with the publication of a libelous communication copied from the New York Herald, and a warrant was issued for the arrest of Mr. W. The article complained of is published under the heading of "Sheet Iron Inn," in which Mrs. Zell is designated as "Once the Queen of a Band of Outlaws," alleging that the "Sheet Iron Inn," (an imaginary place, as we are informed,) "in the Blue Ridge Mountains" was, at one time, "the resort of robbers and thieves of the worst sort," and that at an early age Mrs. Zell was taken there "by some of the inmates and soon became known for miles around as the Queen of Sheet Iron Inn." Mr. Zell says that on his return from the army he purchased from Robert Given, Esq., a small tract of land, with a small house which was covered with sheet iron, but that it was used only as his private residence, did not keep it as an inn nor was it used as a resort for thieves and robbers, and that he lived there in the quiet enjoyment of his rights as a law abiding citizen, and that the allegations in the article referred to are false and malicious. We have not been able to find any person who ever heard of such a place as the "Sheet Iron Inn" in this region.—Carlisle Mirror.

PETERSON'S MAGAZINE for March opens with a beautifully illustrated article on Household Decoration and Furniture.—The number contains the usual amount of interesting reading matter, including the latest fashions and most pleasing novelties in fancy needlework, &c.

All letters intended for this magazine should be addressed to Charles J. Peterson, and not to T. B. Peterson & Brothers, as frequently happens. There is no business connection whatever, nor ever has been, between Charles J. Peterson and T. B. Peterson & Brothers. The latter are book publishers only; the former a magazine publisher only. This notice applies as well to manuscript as to letters; in fact, more confusion arises from misdirected manuscripts than from misdirected letters.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK, for March, starts out with one of Darley's very felicitous steel-engravings illustrating Mrs. Browning's "Rhyme of the Duchess May." The fashion-plates, colored and plain, give the latest styles in ladies' and children's dresses, and there are numerous miscellaneous engravings. The music of the month is Falfo's beautiful ballad, "The Heart Bowed Down," and there is the usual diagram pattern. That fine serial, "A Rose-bud Garden of Girls," is concluded, and Christian Reid's romance, "Ruslyn's Fortune," developes new features of interest. The short stories, poems and miscellaneous articles will all repay perusal, and the departments are as attractive as ever.

SNAKE STORIES and fish stories sink into utter insignificance now after the following squirrel story: A Butler county man recently shot three times at what he thought was a squirrel before he succeeded in bringing it to the ground from its elevated position on a tree. On examining his game, what was the gunner's astonishment to find four squirrels in one—four distinct animals joined, Siamese twin like, by a strip of skin so that one could not move without the other. They had been born that way, and were full grown.

VALUABLE FARM

AT PRIVATE SALE.

THE undersigned offer at Private Sale their VERY DESIRABLE FARM, situate in Menallen township, Adams county, Pa., about one mile southwest of Bendersville, adjoining Wm. Wilbey, C. B. Rice and others, and containing 150 ACRES, more or less, about 25 acres being good timber. The farm land is very productive, and the fences are good. The improvements consist of a Two-story part Stone and part Roughcast DWELLING HOUSE, with Two-story Out-kitchen, Bank Barn with Wagon Shed attached, a Wagon Shed with Corn Cribs, a Straw Shed nearly covering the barnyard, a large Work Shop, Ice House, Hog Pen, Hen House, and other out-buildings; a SAW MILL and a SHINGLE MILL, both nearly new and in good running order; a never-failing well of water at the house, running water in the barnyard and in nearly every field; one of the largest and finest APPLE ORCHARDS in the county, just in full bearing condition, and hardly ever missing a crop; also a young Peach Orchard, with all other kinds of the best fruit—indeed the property should command unusual attention because of its extra fruit producing qualities. The land is principally copper-stone, which generally produces as well as limestone—is easily farmed and in every sense satisfactory. The water cannot be excelled. Altogether the farm is among the most desirable in the county. Persons wishing to view it are requested to call on the first-named, residing thereon. For further particulars address, to Bendersville.

FARM AND HOUSE.

Wheat in Corn-Stalk Ground.

The Farmers' Social met at the residence of Rev. Joseph Sherfy, in Cumberland township, on Friday—Mr. Wm. Wible presiding for the day.

The propriety of following corn with wheat afforded a topic for a very interesting talk. Years ago, in this region, the plan, almost without exception, proved a failure; but during the last decade, with more experience, improved lands, and better commercial fertilizers, seeding stalk ground has paid well.

In some of the more recent cases barnyard manure was applied in the spring before the planting of the corn. In the fall, after cutting off the corn, the land was simply harrowed, or lightly forked, the wheat drilled in with about 200 pounds of some good fertilizer to the acre, timothy sown, and in the spring clover. Satisfactory crops of wheat were generally realized, and good stands of grass secured.

Several of the members grew corn on clover sod last season; seeded to wheat with a commercial fertilizer, and expect to put the same land in wheat with barnyard manure next fall. They report the present outlook promising, and count on a full crop to follow. The first is simply taking the place of oats. None of the members, however, expect to give up growing oats; it is a nice feed, and often yields well enough to make it a paying crop.

To turn corn stalks with a long plough is, as a rule, a mistake. The ground becomes too loose, has no time to settle, and the seed gets in too deeply. A light stirring of the surface, with a roller to level, then the drill, seems the best thing to do—not only to save time and labor, but to secure the largest yield of wheat.

In the last twenty-five years the production of wheat in Adams county has increased beyond estimate, and there is no telling what extent it will ultimately reach.

The elegant entertainment—of course embracing, with the substantials and delicacies, the many varieties of delicious fruits for the putting-up of which the Sherfy family has become so noted—was highly enjoyed by the company present. —Editor Compiler.

Fattening Steers Profitably.

Eds. Country Gentleman.—There are many farms in Western New York used almost exclusively for grain growing, or at least where stock growing (and hence pasturing) is of secondary importance. The owners of these farms are accustomed to sell all the coarse products, such as cornstalks, straw, hay, oats and corn, and rely mainly upon clover to restore the exhausted fertility of their soil. While clover must ever remain the main fertilizing agent employed upon these farms, yet there is an apparent need of some other manure to be used as a supplement to clover. The manufactures of commercial fertilizers have done something toward supplying this need, but nothing has yet been found to fully supply the place of stable manure. This leads me to consider cattle feeding according to my experience. Cattle feeding, like summer-fallowing, is unpopular with a majority of our best farmers, for the reason that poor cattle are fed, and poor land is summer-fallowed. A steer's carcass may be compared to the soil; the food is the seed, the beef is the harvest.

The most important and first consideration, therefore, is the selection of stock. I assume that every feeder will buy his stock; hence the necessity of being a good judge of stock. He should know when and where to buy, and know how much to pay. If not a good judge himself, he had better employ some one who is to buy for him. It is false economy to buy steers which have had good pasture all summer and are poor in the fall, because this class of cattle may be bought for little money. The fact of their being poor in the fall is an indication of inaptitude to fatten even with good care and food. This class of steers will invariably disappoint the feeder, and feeding such stock will end in loss. Oxen of 1,500 to 2,000 pounds in weight, if of mature age, will gain more per day than younger and smaller cattle, but will consume much more feed, and will not bring so much per pound as smaller sized cattle, as butchers and meat dealers generally have learned that beef carcasses weighing 1,200 to 1,400 pounds are less desirable for retail purposes than carcasses weighing 600 to 800 pounds. I would therefore not choose large cattle for feeding, but good, straight, thrifty and fleshy two or three-year-old steers, such as I think will, when finished, weigh from 1,100 to 1,300 pounds (and often 100 pounds heavier.)

I always avoid purchasing a steer with disproportionate head, tail or belly. I buy wild steers if they are broad between the eyes, for such always have good sense and may be easily tamed. If narrow between the eyes, and wild, I never buy them. I buy fleshy steers, because I can buy flesh much cheaper than I can make it, if I can buy it for 10 cents per pound. If a steer weighing 900 pounds can be bought for $25, he will be cheaper at $35 after he is fed to 1,000 pounds. By buying this first 100 pounds gain, a double advantage is obtained; I have secured the actual gain, and also secured in the animal a habit of gaining. Other things being equal, the second month of feeding will develop a greater gain in weight than the first, even with the same feed. My experience accords with the celebrated German experiments, which proved that during the first stages of the fattening process, large quantities of water are removed from the cellular structure, and its place is supplied with a deposit of fat. When this process of substitution has been completed, and the formation of new cells commences, it is then that we may look for a gain in the weight of the animal. While it is economy for the grain farmer to buy the first 100 pounds gain of the steer, it is also economy for him to buy the steer at 30 months old, rather than raise him upon land capable of producing 30 bushels of wheat per acre, and other crops in proportion.

I often realize as much money for the keeping of a steer the last six months of his life, as the former owner did for the first thirty months. It is in this finishing process that all the profit lies. Six months is as long as a steer can be fed with profit, unless we turn to grass—something which the true grain farmer will not be guilty of. Six months is insufficient time in which to convert a thin steer into prime beef; therefore I say commence with fleshy steers. The fattening process in cattle can never be hurried, and is at best a slow one—15 pounds per week being the best gain I have ever been able to make. I avoid surfeiting, as a steer once cloyed will never have a regular appetite again, and his gain at best will be irregular. A good appetite being essential to the thrift of a steer, all reasonable efforts should be made to sustain it. To this end I allow plenty of out-door exercise, and am careful never to give more grain than they will eat.

I have frequently noticed that oxen, moderately worked and liberally fed, would gain more during a spring's work, than steers which were not working but correspondingly well fed would during the same time,—a fact which tends to prove that if plenty of exercise is not a positive benefit to fattening, it is at least no detriment. When I first commenced feeding cattle, I kept the stables too warm; an error which I think many are led into by imbibing the popular delusion that an animal's thrift during winter, is measured by the height of temperature we are able to sustain in its stable. A steer to thrive, should be kept comfortably warm, but he is not a hot-house plant, liable to wither and die should the temperature in his stable happen to fall below the freezing point. All fattening steers should of course be tied with ropes or chains, and allowed freedom for their heads. For fodder, I use principally cornstalks, and always feed in the field in suitable weather; that is, when there is not too much mud or snow. I feed grain in the morning, then draw sufficient corn stalks to the field to last all day, after which I turn the steers out. At about three o'clock they are again stabled and fed another ration of grain. In drawing stalks I select for the feeding ground the field designed for corn the next year. After trying different varieties of grain, I have adopted the following mixture: Corn, three parts; oats, one part, ground together fine, then add one-fifth part wheat bran. This makes a cheap mixture, and one which no healthy steer will refuse unless over four quarts are fed at a feeding, twice a day. W. F. Baggerly.

Watercress.—Watercress is generally supposed to be grown in and along streams of water, and many will be pleased to learn that it can be grown in every garden, by proper treatment. A contemporary, in relation to growing watercresses in ordinary garden soil, says a correspondent utilizes every year a cool, moist north border under a wall as a watercress bed, and gets a good and lasting supply of this wholesome salad. When forming a new bed, a piece of ground under the north wall is well-manured and dug, and got into good working order, and in early Spring the seed is sown either in drills or broadcast, and covered with some fine soil. As soon as the warm weather sets in the seed quickly germinates, and if the bed be kept moist during warm and drying weather, a crop of watercresses can be had early in July, unless the season be a late one.—The Farm, Dublin, Ireland.

Strawberry Culture.—A writer in Scribner gives some points in strawberry culture, as follows: For table use and general cultivation, north and south, east and west, I would recommend Charles Downing, Monarch of the West, Seth Boyden and Kentucky Seedling. These varieties are all first class in quality, and they have shown a wonderful adaptation to varied soils and climates. They have been before the public many years, and have persistently proved their excellence; therefore, they are worthy of a place in every garden.

If our land is heavy, we can add to the above, in northern latitudes, Triomphe de Gand, Jocunda, President Wilder, Forest Rose, President Lincoln, Golden Defiance, Sharpless, and Pioneer.

If the soil is light, containing a large proportion of sand and gravel, the Charles Downing, Kentucky Seedling, Monarch of the West, Duchess, Cumberland Triumph, Miner's Prolific, Golden Defiance, and Sharpless will be almost certain to yield a fine supply of large and delicious berries, both north and south.

A Negro Ravisher Lynched.

Point of Rocks, Md., Feb. 18, 1880.—The lynching last night of Page Wallace, the negro who committed an outrage on Mrs. Mary Marmon, was the absorbing topic of conversation in this and Loudoun county, Va., to-day. Since the arrest of Wallace, on the 2d inst., and his incarceration in the Hagerstown jail, the closest watch had been observed at nearly every crossing from Harper's Ferry east, and particularly at this place, by a number of men, who fully resolved that Wallace should not be returned alive to the prison quarters at Leesburg, where he had been confined on several charges, and from whence he had escaped on the 27th ultimo.

The preparations for his capture and lynching were coolly and deliberately made. It was generally understood yesterday that the sheriff of Loudoun county had gone to Hagerstown, armed with a requisition, and that he would return with his charge via this route, and the result of the circulation of this information was an assemblage of about one hundred persons at the Washington Junction of the Metropolitan railroad. Upon the arrival of No. 5, Baltimore and Ohio express, from the West, at 5:36 P. M., when Sheriff Caruthers, with his prisoner handcuffed to Jailor Nixon, disembarked from the train, no attempt was made to molest them, and accordingly the party proceeded expeditiously to the ferry, where they entered a boat as quickly as possible and started for the other shore. Seven skiffs, filled with men, followed closely in the wake.

It was now about dusk, and no one was seen on the other side. Hardly, however, had the landing been reached when the boat was surrounded by about fifty men, many of them masked. Sheriff Caruthers drew his revolver and protested in the name of the law against this interference. The response was a dozen or more revolvers leveled at his head. He was ordered to unlock the handcuffs, and when this was done the prisoner was taken hastily away. The place selected for this work of death was about three hundred yards from the ferry, at the foot of the Catoctin mountain, and only a few yards from the river. The point where the outrage had been committed was but forty feet distant.

The following particulars of the lynching were obtained from an eye witness: When the crowd approached the spot with Wallace, Mrs. Marmon, the outraged woman, (who had been waiting,) ran up to him and with clenched fist struck him fiercely in the face. The man who had him directly in charge asked him if he [illegible] feel uneasy. "Yes, boss," he replied, "and I only want a little time to pray." This was allowed, and while on his knees Mrs. M. again ran up and thrust a revolver into his face. It was quickly knocked aside, however, and the rope placed around the negro's neck and drawn up over a limb of the tree. Immediately the woman began firing, and other shots were fired, nine bullets in all being lodged in his body. The lynchers dispersed about seven o'clock P. M., being satisfied with their work.

A jury of inquest inquired into the case next day, and rendered a verdict that "Page Wallace, colored, came to his death at a place called the Old Furnace, in the county of Loudoun, Virginia, and near the Point of Rocks ferry, by hanging and shooting by parties unknown to us."

President Buchanan was born at "Stony Batter," in Cove Gap of the Tuscarora Mountain, about four miles from Mercersburg, Franklin county, Pa. His father located there in the mountain wilderness when it was on the line of the "pack-mules," which were the only means of transportation between the Cumberland Valley and the West. His birthplace has long been marked only by a stone-heap, but Mr. Jacob McCune purchased the house some sixty years ago, removed the logs to Mercersburg, and re-erected the building, where it yet stands, having been carefully preserved by Rev. R. Lewis McCune, the present owner. Mr. McCune has recently added to the old log-house in which President Buchanan was born, another log building once used for an academy, in which Mr. Buchanan commenced his classical studies, and the two venerable mementoes of the only Pennsylvania President stand side by side on Fayette street in Mercersburg. They tell the story of the obscure birth of one of the greatest of our modern statesmen, and record the open way to greatness that free institutions proffer to intellect and well-directed effort.—Times.

When Don got back to the Senate after he had killed Blaine the second time, at the last convention at Harrisburg—and the great dinner was over, to which reference is made in this issue, a caucus was held in Don's back room of the third termers, to carry on the canvass.

As the men in council were discussing how to nominate Grant by trick, cash and fraud, one said, "The third term cry is all nonsense; nobody now cares a damn for old Washington, he is now of no account—he can't carry a county delegate."

"Hush," said another, "don't even talk that way in our caucus."

Just then an apparition appeared coming into the room and frightened the caucus out of its wits. The men became sober in an instant. This apparition was Washington giving up his sword to Congress and pointing to his farewell address.

The men flew from the room in amazement. So ended that caucus.—Commonwealth.

A little girl at Galion, Ohio, has developed a taste as a dentist. She tied a string to her brother's tooth, tied the other end of the string to the stove leg, and then touched a red-hot coal to the victim's nose. The tooth came out.

POND'S EXTRACT.

THE WONDERFUL CURATIVE.

An Internal and External Remedy, to Relieve Pain, Remove Soreness, Hasten Healing; Prevent and Subdue Inflammation, Quiet Nervousness, Arrest Internal and External Bleeding, &c.

The many testimonials which are constantly being received of marvellous cures performed by this old and tried remedy, show that the esteem in which it has been held by all classes for the past thirty-seven years has not abated.

The skill gained by experience in selecting the vegetable components and in its manufacture, warrants the Company in claiming for Pond's Extract purity, strength, and curative properties not attained by or found in any other remedy.

While we do not claim Pond's Extract to be a Panacea, we maintain that for the many diseases to which it is adapted it is a cure beyond all question.

Wherever inflammation or pain exists it is a complete cure. Bleeding of the Lungs, Stomach, Nose and Wounds is controlled and stopped in a brief time. Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Pain in the Back are cured. Headache, Toothache, Earache, Burns, Scalds, Ulcers, Bruises, Lameness, Weakness, Piles, Sore Eyes, Croup, Sore Throat, Diphtheria, Catarrh, Female Diseases, Ague in Breasts, &c., in fact, for all complaints where a soothing, healing emollient is desired no other remedy will give such positive results and satisfaction.

Do not be induced to take any other Preparation, or you will be disappointed. See you get the genuine, having our Trade-Mark wrapper on the bottle, and name blown in the glass.

Drs. Oellig & Pfoutz's Celebrated TONIC ELIXIR!

THE HOUSEHOLD REMEDY.

During thirty-five years, Dr. Oellig has been using this Elixir in his private practice in the state of Pennsylvania. His practice has been extensive—all kinds of diseases have come under his notice, and wherever and whenever he has used this remedy, has found it to answer his purpose. Indeed, so reliable and beneficial has he found it to be in curing certain diseases, that he has kindly placed it within the reach of the public. So that all who are suffering from diseases, may take it and regain their health. It will cure Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Liver Complaint, Habitual Costiveness, Cramps in the Stomach, Gravel, Diseases of the Skin, General Debility, or Weakness caused by Excess, Imprudence or Exposure, and all Nervous Affections.

It is invaluable as a Tonic. It will impart strength to the system, purify the blood and restore the loss of appetite. It is also certain to remove all obstructions to the regular course of nature in females, purifying the complexion and giving elasticity to the spirits. Also a sure remedy for the diseases of Green Sickness or Chlorosis, Leucorrhœa or Whites, Womb Complaint or Falling of Womb, &c. This Elixir is composed of Pure Herbs, and all that use it will perceive that the combination is powerful and yet harmless to the constitution. It is impossible for diseases to withstand this formidable remedy. Diseases are forced to leave the system.

One Hundred Dollars Reward will be given to any person who will produce any medicine that will effect a more speedy and perfect cure of the diseases herein mentioned.

DR. PFOUTZ'S CERTIFICATES.

Martinsburg, W. Va., May 17, 1870.

Dr. Pfoutz,—Dear Sir:—Having been afflicted for a long time with Dyspepsia and a general prostration of my nervous system, and having used a great many different medicines, without experiencing any material relief, I was induced by your agent of this place to try a bottle of your Tonic Elixir, and found great relief before I had used half a bottle and I now firmly believe it will effect a permanent cure.

A married lady who is not willing to have her name published states: "Tongue cannot tell what I suffered from debilitating whites and down bearing of the Womb. I tried all sorts of remedies and physicians and still did not get cured. The best physicians only gave me temporary relief. I continued in this way until I was compelled to keep my bed more than half the time. I was recommended to try your Elixir, which I did. I am now fully restored to health, to the great joy of myself and husband." We could procure quite a number of this class of certificates, but for obvious reasons they would not, of course, allow their names to be published.

Hedgesville, Berkeley, co., W. Va., July 27, 1871. Dr. Pfoutz, Gentlemen: I have been suffering for fifteen years with great pain in my back and side, fullness of my chest, &c. I took a few of your Billious Pills, which cured me entirely, and I can safely recommend them to any afflicted in the same way. Yours truly,

MARY KREEZER.

Dr. Oberholtzer's Liniment CAMPHOR MILK,

Is now highly recommended and extensively used for Rheumatism, Frosted Feet, Aches, Pains, Sores, Stings, Sprains, Swellings, &c. It is of the greatest value in curing cuts, galls, sprains, and swellings in horses.

It acts quickly and surely. It at once soothes and relieves the stiff joints, lame back and aching nerves. The money will be paid back to anyone not satisfied with its effects. Price 25 cents. 6 bottles for $1.

Prepared only by Levi Oberholtzer, M. D.

The Phœnix Pectoral

Has proved itself to be peculiarly adapted to old persons, consumptives and children. It breaks a cold. It stops a cough. It aids expectoration. It gives instant relief. It gives strength. It brings rest. It has made more cures than any other medicine. Thousands of the citizens of Eastern Pennsylvania have used it for many years past and testify to the relief given and cures effected. Price 25 cents or 5 bottles for $1. Prepared only by Levi Oberholtzer, M. D.

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY

GRAY'S SPECIFIC REMEDY

TRADE MARK. TRADE MARK.

Before Taking

After Taking

Is especially recommended as an unfailing cure for Seminal Weakness, Spermatorrhea, Impotency and all diseases that follow as a sequence of Self Abuse; as Loss of Memory, Universal Lassitude, Pain in the Back, Dimness of Vision, Premature Old Age, and many other diseases that lead to Insanity, Consumption and a Premature Grave, all of which as a rule are first caused by deviating from the path of nature and over indulgence. The Specific Medicine is the result of a life study and many years of experience in treating these special diseases.

Full particulars in our pamphlets, which we desire to send free by mail to every one.

The Specific Medicine is sold by all Druggists at $1 per package, or six packages for $5, or will be sent by mail on receipt of the money by addressing THE GRAY MEDICINE CO., No. 10 Mechanics' Block, Detroit, Mich.

Cathartic Pills

Combine the choicest cathartic principles in medicine, in proportions accurately adjusted to secure activity, certainty, and uniformity of effect. They are the result of years of careful study and practical experiment, and are the most effectual remedy yet discovered for diseases caused by derangement of the stomach, liver, and bowels, which require prompt and effectual treatment. Ayer's Pills are specially applicable to this class of diseases. They act directly on the digestive and assimilative processes, and restore regular healthy action. Their extensive use by physicians in their practice, and by all civilized nations, is one of the many proofs of their value as a safe, sure, and perfectly reliable purgative medicine. Being compounded of the concentrated virtues of purely vegetable substances, they are positively free from calomel, or any injurious properties, and can be administered to children with perfect safety.

Ayer's Pills are an effectual cure for Constipation or Costiveness, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Foul Stomach and Breath, Dizziness, Headache, Loss of Memory, Numbness, Biliousness, Jaundice, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Dropsy, Tumors, Worms, Neuralgia, Colic, Gripes, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Gout, Piles, Disorders of the Liver, and all other diseases resulting from a disordered state of the digestive apparatus.

As a Dinner Pill they have no equal.

While gentle in their action, these Pills are the most thorough and searching cathartic that can be employed, and never give pain unless the bowels are inflamed, and then their influence is healing. They stimulate the appetite and digestive organs; they operate to purify and enrich the blood, and impart renewed health and vigor to the whole system.
